

The Geo-Economic Advisory Program

Think of this as your tailored weekly catch-up, where an expert breaks down the current geopolitical and economic events that may have an effect on your professional interest and current priorities.

We help you make sense of economic and geopolitical events, identify liabilities and explore opportunities. Whether you're running a business, making policy, or just trying to stay informed, we connect the dots between these global events and your world and we help you develop your "issue position".

This service will involve Interactive Learning Sessions, Customized Briefings, Curated Reading lists, Thought-Provoking Discussions, and Rigorous Critical Thinking exercises all designed to significantly enhance your intellectual capacities.
